

Design und Function

Is minimal design still good design? In the case of STABS cloakroom hooks, absolutely. Having reduced the need to hang things up to its aesthetic minimum, the result is a collection of round rods made from Ash. The set of three is made up of a trio of rods in different lengths, whereas the set of four consists of one length of wood. As such, STABS can be hung in many different arrangements to suit your personal taste. The wall hooks guarantee maximum flexibility and so allow the premises to fulfil their potential. The clothes hooks guarantee a stylish resting place for clothes, bags and other accessories. STABS likes to be placed in entrances and hall ways, as well as in bathrooms.
